PROFILE INFO

I am 27 years old, I was born in South Korea and I currently reside in Denmark with my partner. I hold a residence permit under the EU regulations, which entitles me to live and work in Denmark. I have a bright and outgoing personality, I consider myself a fast-learner and I am passionate about web development. Currently, I am working as a frontend intern, contributing to both UI/UX design and mobile frontend development. I have experience in working on projects in teams as well as individually. I have independently worked on multiple personal projects, one of which integrates MySQL with both backend and frontend development, and showcases my experience in working with modern tech stacks like Next.js.
